

Phlebotomy Supplies for Straight Stick Technique

The best practice for drawing laboratory samples is to use a straight stick technique. The supply storage areas have been updated to now include a 21g straight needle and hub to accommodate this practice.

Please contact your educator if you have questions about straight stick technique.

